MEET our Teacher

Kaleigh Rahim completed her secondary education at Holy Name Convent, before attending the University of New Brunswick, Canada, where she studied Human Resources, International Business, and Finance. She has experience working in Human Resources and Business Support, as well as in education, both administratively and as a preschool teacher.

One of her greatest professional achievements is teaching preschoolers, a deeply rewarding experience. She finds fulfillment in watching children grow, learn, and face new challenges. The trust they place in her is something she cherishes.

Currently, Kaleigh serves as an Administrative Assistant at Glencoe, supporting teachers, students, and the principal to ensure the smooth running of Rosewood-Trimont College. Her work involves managing daily tasks and providing support behind the scenes, contributing to a safe and nurturing environment. She actively helps in the growth of staff and students, playing a key role in their success.
